

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A copolymer of ethylene and a higher alpha-olefin having broadened melt processing windows and reduced melt fracture can be produced using a chromium-containing catalyst system and a trialkyl boron cocatalyst.

5 The polymerization process must be carefully controlled to produce a copolymer resin that easily can be made into articles of manufacture.